

R&IW22 Sustainability programme

We welcome You to attend the 2-day Sustainability programme within R&IW22.

The following researchers are encouraged to sign up:

- Researchers who are currently in MIRAI2.0 Sustainability seed funded projects
- Researchers with an interest in the seed projects topics (detailed listing of them will be updated in this programme soon)
- Researchers interested in workshops created and run by young researchers from member universities. The applications for workshops are evaluated during June. The detailed topics of approved and selected workshops will be announced late June, and then interested researchers can start signing up.
